DETAILED ACTION

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments, see Remarks, filed 2 February 2006, with respect to the rejection(s) of claim(s) 28 under 35 U.S.C. 102 have been fully considered and are persuasive. Therefore, the rejection has been withdrawn. However, upon further consideration, a new ground(s) of rejection is made in view of Trapp et al.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

Claim 28 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Trapp et al.

As per claim 28, Trapp et al. discloses a method for accurately determining the room temperature of air in an automobile cabin, comprising: automatically determining the room temperature of air in an automobile cabin by adding or subtracting an error value to/from a temperature value of air measured by an air temperature sensor 28, the error value being based on a temperature value for solid mass (heat conducting surfaces 38, 40, 42, and 44) generally surrounding the temperature sensor (as shown in Figure 2), based on a temperature of the surfaces measured by temperature sensor 36 (see for example paragraphs 0009 and 0021, and claims 1, 3, and 4).

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 1-27, 29-50, 52, and 53 are allowed.

Claim 51 is objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.
